

Abstract

ENGINEERING OPERATIONS CHANNEL PROVISION

A VDSL service is provided to a subscriber over a twisted pair loop. An engineering operations channel (EOC) providing control functions is carried in AAL2 minicells. This facilitates multiplexing of messages associated with various network management layers over the EOC.

5